One finds from Jinnah's speeches in the period 1940-45 that before 1947 the "Hindus" were relentlessly and viciously vilified by Jinnah as being power-hungry for not agreeing to partition India...

Speeches and statements by Jinnah 1943-1945 ...

These assertions are not borne out by Jinnah's speeches, statements and positions in the 1940-1946 period. From these it is clear that 1. Jinnah was very specific that the goal of the Muslim League was the establishment of one or more independent states in the north-west and north-east Muslim-majority regions. His descriptions and prescriptions for the complete independence of such a state ...
